332 PERISH AS TERRIFIC HEAT WAVE SWEEPS EAST STATES

841 Prostrated During Three Days of Fearful Sweltering Weather

RAINS BRING RELIEF TO MID-WEST POINTS

Precipitation In Kansas and Parts of Missouri Come in Time to Save Crops

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Three hundred and thirty-two persons have perished and 841 prostrated as a result of the terrific heat of the last three days throughout the East and Middle West. There is some relief in the Middle West but the East still swelters.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—New York's death toll from the heat was raised to nearly forty early today when fourteen additional deaths were reported to the police between midnight and 10 a. m.

Forty-one prostrations were reported during the same time, bringing the total prostrations to well above the 150 mark.

At 8 o'clock the temperature was 89 with chances of Tuesday's high mark of 96 being equalled. Thousands slept in the parks and on the beaches last night. Other thousands slept in the streets or on fire escapes. There was little breeze and the night brought but slight relief. On the east side the suffering was intense and early reports today brought numerous additional deaths. Horses dropped dead in the streets, where the thermometers registered above 100.

At midnight the temperature was 86.

Suffering was increased by the inability of ice companies to meet demands for ice.

This situation caused the most intense suffering in the congested districts.

21 DEAD, SCORES OVERCOME IN CHICAGO BY HEAT

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—Twenty-one deaths and scores of prostrations were the toll early today of the heat wave which the weather man says will be broken this afternoon.

The thermometer registered 84 at 8 o'clock today, a decline of two degrees from the 8 a. m. reading yesterday.

WASHINGTON IS SUFFERING FROM HEAT WAVE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—After a hot night, which forbade sleep, the capital today again suffered under high temperature and great humidity. At midnight the thermometer was 90 and at 7 o'clock this morning it was 86.

13 DIE AS NO RELIEF IS PROMISED PITTSBURGH

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 1.—With thirteen deaths reported today as attributable to yesterday's heat and humidity, no relief was in sight early today. A probable high mark of 94 or 95 was predicted at the weather bureau.

MILWAUKEE SWELTERING; 7 DIE FROM HEAT

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 1.—Clouds which poured rain all over the northern and western sections of the state last night took a jump across the southeastern section and never dripped a drop.

The Cream City awoke with the sun scorching away, but with a slightly cooler western breeze blowing.

Seven have died from the heat.

TIMELY RAINS SAVE CROPS IN KANSAS, MISSOURI

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 1.—Rains over Kansas and parts of western Missouri last night and today broke the drought and heat wave which threatened to completely ruin the corn and late grain crop.

Today it was raining in Kansas City and over eastern Kansas, while Topeka, Dodge City and western Kansas reported rains last night. At Dodge City more than an inch fell following a temperature of over 100 degrees throughout the day.

The corn belt received a good soaking. At 10 o'clock last night an inch had fallen at Wichita and a drizzle continued until morning. Today it was cool and clear at Salina, following one-third of an inch of rain last night. Hutchinson, Pratt, Junction City and

U. S. WILL STATE NO PEACE TERMS UNTIL GERMANY IS BEATEN

Pope Is Not Supporting Any German Catholic Plans to End Conflict

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—The United States will make known specific terms of peace only when Germany is beaten, this government has decided, it was learned today.

America is committed to press through to the finish. This government is concerned only with victory and refuses to say even what peace terms it has in mind, if any.

ROME, Aug. 1.—The Pope is not supporting any peace plans which the German Catholic party is agitating, it was learned today. The Pope is extremely careful not to support any particular plan, or permit his sympathies to incline toward any particular group.

Abilene all reported from a quarter inch to a half inch during the night, with the weather threatening today.

While corn has been seriously damaged and millions of bushels cut from the earlier estimates, the rain and cooler weather will prove of incalculable value.

LEMONS JUMPED $4.50 IN NEW YORK
NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Lemons jumped $4.50 this afternoon on account of the extreme heat. Averages were $8.10 to $10.89.

CAPPS WARNS OF SPEED NEED IN SHIP BUILDING

We Are In War More Seriously Than Most People Realize, He Declares

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—Both steel and wooden ships must be built and built quickly, Rear Admiral Capps, chairman of the emergency fleet corporation, told ship-builders here today.

"Matters brought to my attention only this morning indicate the vital importance of pressing this construction program. We are in this war far more seriously than a vast majority of the people realize," Capps declared.

It was his first public utterance since taking charge of ship-building work for the government. The meeting of ship-builders was called by Chairman Hurley of the shipping board, following reports that yards were delaying work to gain more profitable private schedules.

"Every ounce of our strength must go into the prosecution of this program," Capps said. "The merits of wooden and steel ships have nothing to do with the case. Both classes are important in the situation."

2,730-TON AMERICAN STEAMER TORPEDOED

LONDON, Aug. 1.—The American steamer Motano was torpedoed and sunk by a submarine yesterday, the admiralty announced today. Twenty-two survivors were landed.

The Motano was a steel screw, three-masted ship of 2730 tons, the property of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey and registered at New York.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Captain Ernst Stratton of West Philadelphia commanded the Standard Oil steamer Motano, destroyed by a submarine. Standard Oil officers said today the officers and crew totaled forty-seven. Only twenty-two have been reported landed.

HOSPITAL SHIP RUNS AGROUND; 600 PERILED

HALIFAX, Aug. 1.—A hospital ship from England, with 600 wounded and sick Canadians aboard, went aground near here today. The ship is in no great danger thus far.

TEST APPLICANTS FOR PRESIDIO CAMP NO. 2

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—Applicants for enrollment in the second officers' reserve corps training camp reported for examination today. Fifty applicants have been quizzed in twenty-four hours.

FIND ELEMENTS OF DANGER AT NORTHAM ARE NUMEROUS

As At Irvine, Even Careful Driver, Not Absorbed, Might Be Caught

That there are a number of elements of danger that prevent the crossing at Northam Station, where Attorney E. E. Keech lost his life on Monday when his automobile was struck by a fast Santa Fe train, from being a "safe" crossing has been proven to a number of Santa Anans who have made careful investigations at the crossing since the tragedy that took away the attorney's life.

Some of Attorney Keech's friends are not entirely satisfied with the theory that he drove upon the tracks while absorbed in thought. They believe that conditions are such that many persons of ordinary habits in driving automobiles might be caught in the same way that the Santa Ana lawyer was caught.

View the Crossing

Yesterday Coroner Winbiger and the jury that sat at the inquest investigated the crossing, and were present when a train went by. This morning a party consisting of Judge Z. B. West, J. C. Templeton, A. J. Crookshank, Attorney R. Y. Williams and T. E. Stephenson went to the crossing to make an investigation. While they were there a train came from the east, which was the direction from which the train came that struck Attorney Keech's automobile.

The paved highway from Buena Park crosses the Santa Fe in a straight line from the south. Just north of the crossing the highway turns to the west and runs parallel with the tracks. Attorney Keech approached from the west, made the turn to his right and was going south when his machine was struck.

The wig-wag is on the south side of the tracks. Some question arose as to whether or not that wig-wag is placed to the best advantage. Undoubtedly it is to the best advantage of those approaching from the south, but it is less likely to be a warning to anyone driving from the north side of the tracks. The establishment of a second wig-wag, to be located north of the tracks, might save the lives of others.

Some of the trains go through Northam station at a high rate of speed. It is on the main line for overland trains, and probably the trains go nearly as fast at that point as they do anywhere between Fullerton and Los Angeles.

Time Is Short

There would hardly be ten seconds elapse between the time one of these fast trains hit the battery of the wig-wag and the time the engine reaches the crossing. By actual demonstration today in A. J. Crookshank's car, going six or seven miles an hour, it took ten seconds to go from the turn north of the tracks on to the main track. Those who know the habits of Attorney Keech in driving doubt if he approached the railroad crossing much faster than that.

East of the crossing and a few yards away is a small warehouse, which obstructs the view to the east. A person thirty feet back from the main track could see 300 feet east along the main track.

From the highway north of the tracks, while a driver is facing east and is seventy-five or more yards west of the turn, a train approaching from the east can be seen if it is far enough east on the tracks. However, an ordinary driver would more likely be watching the road directly ahead, and under ordinary circumstances might not see a train even if it was approaching. It is a safeguard, however, that hereafter all drivers coming from the west should remember.

View Obstructed

When one comes close to the turn, the view east on the track is obscured by the small warehouse, and the view remains obstructed until one is within thirty feet of the main tracks. If there happens to be cars on the side-track east of the crossing, the view is obstructed until one is closer than thirty feet. Monday there were no cars east of the crossing, says the agent.

The crossing at Northam offers somewhat the same conditions as those at Irvine. Approaching Irvine from the north, diagonally with the Santa Fe tracks, a driver looking beyond the warehouses can see a train approaching. Many drivers used to the road always take advantage of that condition to look to the south to see if a train is approaching. At Irvine there is a turn to the right for the crossing. The view to the left is

RIOTING FEARED AT BUTTE AS I. W. W. CHIEF IS LYNCHED

Body of Frank Little, Leader of Industrialists, Found Hanging to Trestle

BUTTE, Mont., Aug. 1.—Serious trouble, the result of I. W. W. anger, caused by the lynching of an I. W. W. organizer this morning, is feared here. Leaders of the Industrialist organization are sending telegrams to all I. W. W. locals to rush men to Butte to avenge the lynching.

The man who was lynched was Frank Little. He formerly operated in Arizona and was the right-hand man of W. D. Haywood, president of the I. W. W.

The identity of the men who carried out the lynching is not known. Little's body was found hanging to a trestle. Telegrams protesting the lynching are being sent to members of Congress by the I. W. W. chiefs.

A mass meeting has been called for this afternoon and it is there that it is feared that trouble may occur.

"TERRIBLE THING," COMMENT OF W. D. HAYWOOD

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—"It is a terrible thing to believe that it is the spark that will set the workers of the nation afire."

This was the comment of W. D. Haywood on the lynching of Frank Little, I. W. W. organizer, at Butte.

'SLACKER' BANNS NOW UNDER U. S. SEARCHLIGHT

Men and Women Rushing In to Marriage to Escape War Service Face Jail

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—Eleventh-hour marriages, contracted to avoid military service, are under the government searchlight today.

Men and women rushing to the license clerks may later find themselves in jail, the provost marshal general has warned. Men who come early on the draft lists will be compelled to stand up before a vigorous cross-examination to prove the marriage was not contracted to avoid service.

Secretary Baker announced sometime ago that impromptu marriages would not serve to excuse a man from service.

The work of detecting such draft evaders is left entirely in the hands of the local authorities.

Meantime the work of examination goes on throughout the country. "It is merely a question of each district grinding out its quota," it was said at the provost marshal general's office today. "We have issued all necessary orders and there will be no need of any reports until after each quota has been completed and is ready for call. We will be ready with the men as soon as the contingent camps are ready for use."

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—San Francisco men of military age are not hiding behind women's skirts to avoid carrying a musket.

Cupid's San Francisco office reported today that business is rotten. Out of twenty-two marriage licenses issued yesterday only nine were to men of military age. Of these five already are in the government service, two are aliens and the other two are applying for enlistment.

F. S. KEY'S NEPHEW IS AFTER U. S. N. POST

OAKLAND, Aug. 1.—A final decree of divorce was granted today to Mrs. Georgiana B. Wheeler, wife of Howard Wheeler, New York magazine editor.

5000 Teutons Taken As Rains Slow Up Big Allied Drive

BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS (United Press Staff Correspondent)
WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN THE FIELD, Aug. 1.—Prisoners taken in the first twenty-four hours of the great drive probably will reach five thousand, according to estimates today. The stream of Germans sent behind the lines has not yet been fully counted. No report has yet been received as to whether enemy guns were captured.

BY LOWELL MELLETT (United Press Staff Correspondent)
LONDON, Aug. 1.—A deluge of rain that turned the historical mud of Flanders into a sticky ooze hampered the British drive today. Field Marshal Haig reported all gains had been consolidated during the night and all German counter-attacks repulsed. The only offensive fighting he reported, however, was in the nature of "minor operations" south of the Ypres-Comines canal, where British positions were improved.

"Hostile counterattacks yesterday afternoon and evening on our new positions around La Basséeville and north to the Ypres-Comines canal were repulsed," Haig declared. "In the neighborhood of the Ypres-Roulers railway our artillery crushed a German counter-attack at night. A heavy rain has been falling since early yesterday afternoon."

With such extensive gains as the British and French troops registered in their initial effort of the drive, the utmost energy is required for consolidating the positions from counter-attacks.

What brought favorable comment here today was the total failure of all German attacks against the ground won by the drive and this despite the fact that all battle front dispatches agreed the British artillery had practically eradicated all vestige of the trenches and fortifications. This meant, it was pointed out, that the victorious soldiers were forced at once to dig themselves in and erect strong lines to hold their gains.

The French official statement detailed how those troops had likewise consolidated their gains and also mentioned the torrential rains.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—The most titanic concentration of men and engines of destruction the world has ever known was juggernauting its bloody way over the German lines today. In twenty-four hours the war monster, representing England and France's supreme efforts, has spread over thirty square miles. An area of that size, blackened by a rain of shells such as even the greatest of wars has not heretofore seen, and dyed probably by the blood of thousands, has so far been wrrenched from the invaders.

London is not counting the cost today. It expects great human sacrifice. It hopes, however, that the stroke may be so aimed that Germany must relinquish her submarine bases on the coast. The whole nation waited expectantly today as its troops still drove forward in probably the greatest flanking operation in the history of military science.

Front Is Widened
The front started at twenty miles. Fighting today had apparently spread over an even greater extent, practically from Arras to the south, to Dixmude, on the north. Already Field Marshal Haig's men, assisted by indomitable French troops, have penetrated at some points three miles through the German lines.

The count of prisoners has not yet been reported, but it will reach at least 5000. German losses in killed and wounded will be staggering. Every front dispatch today dwelt on the terrible effect of the deadly British artillery fire. Lines after lines of German trenches were literally levelled into crumbling earth, the concrete emplacements reduced to dusty fragments.

On the line where the French were driving ahead, the "bloody Yser" again lived up to its name. Time after time French engineers bridged the stream, only to have their pontoon structures wrecked by the enemy's desperate defensive fire. But they got the troops across and beyond, in the mud and muck of the lowlands, the Poles struck hard and furiously.

BATHING GIRLS RULE NEPTUNE BEACH TODAY

ALAMEDA, Cal., Aug. 1.—Attired in bathing suits of the latest cut and swimming in a way which would do credit to the "Forty-niners," Alameda county's Native Daughters of the Golden West gathered at Neptune Beach today, taking charge of the resort and turning over the proceeds to the Native Sons' and Native Daughters' Mutual Benefit Association. There were land and water sports and many novel features on the program.

AIR MOTOR WORKERS AT BERKELEY STRIKE

BERKELEY, Aug. 1.—The plant of the Hall-Scott Motor Company, which has been making aeroplane engines for the government, was closed today as a result of the strike of 100 employees. The strikers offered to return to work today but the company refused and announced when the plant re-opens in a month it will be under practical government control and with increased output.

Company officials charge the strike to German agents.

BIG FIGHT IN UPPER BRANCH ENDED

Amendment Now Up to Lower House; If Law, States Must Act In 6 Years

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—The Senate this afternoon passed the prohibition amendment to the Constitution by a vote of 65 to 20.

The action of the upper branch—its first vote on such an amendment in its history—came as the climax of a persistent fight waged in the Senate for years.

It is now up to the house to determine whether or not the amendment shall be submitted to the states, three-fourths of which must ratify it before it becomes effective. As passed by the senate the states must act within six years or the amendment is null and void.

The vote in the senate to adopt the Harding amendment providing that the prohibition amendment to the Constitution shall be inoperative unless ratified by the states within six years was passed by 56 to 23.

1 DYING, 3 HURT AS TANK FALLS ON HOUSE

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 1.—One child is dying, two others and a woman, Mrs. G. B. Primmer, are seriously injured as the result of a 500-gallon oil tank crashing through the roof of the Primmer home early today, burying the occupants in a deluge of heavy oil and debris of the wrecked house.

Like an avalanche, the tank which stood on supports sixteen feet above the cottage, collapsed without warning. The sleeping woman and children were caught like sleeping rats and awakened only when the great oil reservoir crashed in upon them.

Una Primmer, 10, cannot live, so badly was she crushed. Her 7-year-old sister, Cornelia, probably will be a cripple for life. Mrs. Primmer was badly cut and bruised. Lorene Hubbel, a neighbor child sleeping with the Primmer children, was also badly injured.

WOMAN SHOT BY HER SUITOR DIES IN L. A.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 1.—Her life for her honor was the sacrifice made today when Mrs. Catalina Kingman died in a local hospital, the victim, the police declare, of a rejected suitor who shot her down because she would not desert her husband for him. They are now searching for Ernest Ayala, alias, Aguilar. Mrs. Kingman was shot as she was washing clothes for her three children, who looked on helpless while their mother was wounded.

MOONEY TRIAL HINGES ON FATE OF OXMAN

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—Whether Thomas Mooney, one of the pre-paredness parade bomb case defendants, gets a new trial depends on the outcome of the trial of Frank C. Oxman, on a charge of framing evidence against Mooney.

If Oxman is convicted Mooney should have a new trial, District Attorney Fickert said today.

165 ENLIST IN U. S. ARMY AT S. F. IN DAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—One hundred and sixty-five men have applied for enlistment in the regular army here in twenty-four hours, the largest number of applicants the office has had in a single day.

FRANCE'S STATE EXCELLENT, IS DECLARATION OF FORREST

Republic's Condition As 4th
Year of Conflict Opens
Held Encouraging

BY W. S. FORREST

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, July 31.—It is no secret in France today that three years of terrible war have produced an earnest desire for peace.

Sentiment towards peace permeates the big government buildings in Paris, the cities and smallest villages. Almost every French home, aristocratic or humble, rich or poor, in city or country, has its individual story of war sacrifice. Crepe is as common as calico or silk. Naturally this element alone has produced a longing for

FOUR WEEKS IN HOSPITAL

No Relief—Mrs. Brown Finally Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Cleveland, Ohio.—"For years I suffered so sometimes it seemed as though I could not stand it any longer. It was all in my lower organs. At times I could hardly walk, for if I stepped on a little stone I would almost faint. One day I did faint and my husband was sent for and the doctor came. I was taken to the hospital and stayed four weeks but when I came home I would faint just the same and had the same pains.

A friend who is a nurse asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I began taking it that very day for I was suffering a great deal. It has already done me more good than the hospital. To anyone who is suffering as I was advice is to stop in the first drug-store and get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before you go home."—Mrs. W. C. BROWN, 2247 W. 10th St., Cleveland, Ohio.

peace. But as the composite voice of the highest officials of France has said:

"The only peace wanted in this land is a French peace—integral restitution of Alsace-Lorraine, brutally torn from France in 1871, reparation for damages of war, guarantees for the future. France will fight until she gets that peace."

For the first time during the war the French Parliament, with the exception of three or four recalcitrant Socialist deputies, is today a solidified unit on all the war aims of the nation. Premier Alexander Ribot, facing the first political storm of his regime when the Chamber of Deputies reconvened after the Eastern holidays took the firm action which consolidated the nation.

Modifies Military Command
He modified the high military command placing the national hero, General Potain, in supreme charge of French forces on the Western front. "We all want peace," he said, "but what we want and are going to have is a French peace."

France's parliament overwhelmingly approved this sentiment. Perhaps the absolute faith which the French people—the rank and file—have in the financial soundness of their nation after three years of war is best proof of France's financial stability.

The world has heard much of the famous "bas de laine," the woolen stocking bank of France. It is the little hoard of gold to be found always in French homes. The strain on it has been heavy. But today this woolen sock continues to pour from $800,000 to $2,000,000 each week into the bank of France. This yellow stream is exchanged for the government's short term bonds bearing from 4 to 5 per cent interest.

Also the circulation of French bank notes—like American paper money—has arisen today from $1,200,000,000 to $4,600,000,000. This represents the nation's floating debt except its outstanding short term bonds and enables France to live and carry on the war from one great loan to another. The war to date has taxed the finance of France about eighteen billions of dollars.

Loan Successful

The seemingly bottomless "bas de laine" made France's first war loan successful, and at a time when military events were far from promising. The second duplicated the first. "This came the famous French "Loan of Victory" and its $3,000,000,000 more from the woolen sock. For the first time also during this past year, French banks have found that deposits have begun to overbalance withdrawals of private accounts.

France can allow her national debt to mount to twenty billion dollars and then use less than one third of the country's net annual savings to carry it. Two years of war elapsed before the government began to balance accounts. Increased taxation, including three-cent postage instead of two; double telephone and telegraph rates; double tax on alcohol; increased prices for tobacco, cigars and matches, all government monopolies; higher income tax and stamp taxes on legal documents; increased railroad fares; a new graduated income tax and poll tax, bachelors paying more than married men; increased auto and gasoline licenses, etc., brings in to the government $300,000,000 a year, or enough alone to carry the interest on one-third of the present national debt.

Condition Excellent

Economically, France's condition is excellent. Past months of Germany's intensified submarine blockade have produced few visible effects on French economic life. Possibly with the exception of Italy, France is today the only warring nation in Europe where food restrictions do not emphasize themselves at every meal. Two days each week—Monday and Tuesday—civilian France goes without meat and twice weekly there is an absence of pastry. That portion of the population not depending on hotels and restaurants are put on their honor not to eat the forbidden food on meatless and cakeless days. The hotel or restaurant proprietor sees that his guests obey the law but he doesn't let them suffer. Tasty egg dishes, omelettes and fish replace meat. Nobody misses the pastry. France goes on eating with tranquil satisfaction. Bread on all French tables is war-bread but it takes the most critical observer to know it. Sugar is sold by cards but no one has yet complained of not having an ample supply. Butter is high but few French homes are without it. Vegetables flood the markets at reasonable prices.

Probably the only serious economic worry in France during the war has been the coal shortage of the winter of 1916-17. The great railway transportation problem occasioned by the battle of the Somme during the summer of 1916 and the autumn flooding of the Seine left the country without its supply of winter coal except for vital industries. The French public has just been told in the Chamber of Deputies that the coal situation will be ameliorated the coming winter. A specialist has been appointed by the government to handle this problem alone. One of his early acts is expected to be coal cards, giving all an equal supply.

Demands Light

The strikes of working girls during May in Paris and other French cities acted as highest tributes to the economic situation. The demands were light, demonstrations were of the tamest character and employers needed but little government coercion to re-establish their workers at wages which, even yet, cannot compare with the average wage of the girl worker in the United States. Otherwise there have been no economic upheavals in France.

The French navy, of which little has been heard during the war, except its misfortunes, has played a great part in the anti-submarine campaign. It has silently provisioned French, British, Russian and Serbian troops in the near east; transported hundreds of thousands of men and enormous quantities of food from French colonies and helped to keep up the tireless watch by allied vessels on Austria's hidden fleet in the Adriatic.

FOURTH YEAR OF WAR FATEFUL FOR FUTURE OF RUSSIA

Hope of New Republic Rests
Largely In One Man, Alexander F. Kerensky

(By a United Press Staff Correspondent)

PETROGRAD, Aug. 1.—The year just passed witnessed Russia's rebirth. The year to come will show whether the miracle of that birth can be repeated in another which will bring the infant to a man's power among nations. Her hope rests largely in one man, Alexander F. Kerensky, youthful Premier and War Minister.

In five days Russia went through the violent transition from autocracy to democracy. It was the least bloody revolution in the history of the world. Five months from the date of that revolution is now nearly at hand and in that period the Democracy of Russia has survived despite Germany's most desperate efforts at propaganda and by arms. Russia's vast territory has been kept intact. Her armies have launched a great offensive. Her government has put down insurrection of German-inspired malcontents. Her people are working out their own problems of government, almost a unit for prosecution of the war against Germany until democracy shall be made safe for the world.

Devising New Rule

Nicholas, Czar of all the Russias, last of the world's absolutist monarchs (except the Kaiser), abdicated his proud place at midnight, March 16. The reins of government were assumed by the only organization of the people then assembled—the duma members. It was a makeshift, palpitating. Therefore all Russia began devising impromptu methods of expressing the popular will.

Next to develop as a power in the new Russia was a local council of delegates from the workmen and soldiers, in Petrograd. Because it was on the ground, at the seat of government, this local council before long assumed supreme importance in the government.

But the Petrograd council was only one of thousands of similar units. Workmen and soldiers all over Russia began meeting and selecting delegates. Peasants elected their representatives. Other classes of workers elected theirs. These delegates met at the larger cities and named delegates to an all-Russia conference at Petrograd, which would represent the voice of that particular class of people.

All-Russia Conclaves

First of these all-Russia conferences to meet was that of the Soldiers and Workmen. It absorbed at once the small local Petrograd council. Then came the peasants' conference—literally the agrarian party believers. The workmen's party in Russia is literally the party of the peasants, so that before long the all-Russia conference of Workmen and Soldiers began to represent all of Russia—an impromptu parliament, sensitive to the fullest degree to every shade of public opinion and the most democratic assemblage in the world. When the big conference adjourned, it left an executive council to represent it.

This executive council today has become the real Russian government. Its supporters and representatives dominate on the ministerial board. The ministers themselves are virtually responsible to it. It is a radical body. Its members would class as Socialists in the United States. Some of them are even more extreme in their views than Socialists.

Blood is Shed

This centralization of power in the people's hands through a people's assembly which will make shift to administer until Russia can call a constitutional convention and decide on the exact form of her government, was not achieved without bloodshed. For more than a year Germany had been working through the pro-German Russian court to achieve a separate peace with the Czar. Always to the north Germany saw Russia's vast hordes. True, the autocracy which had contempt for Russia's plain people was too lazy and too contemptuous to provide proper arms and equipment and too rotten with graft to make these hordes formidable fighting men—but Germany always feared them. Germany knew the plain Russian citizens had always hated Germany, as much because the Czar and all his ministers were pro-Germans.

Teutons Apprehensive

Therefore when the plain citizens of Russia assumed the power of that nation, Germany grew apprehensive. Never in all the voluminous pages of Germany's record of machination and intrigue was there more recorded than a story of propaganda as the Kaiser and his ministers worked on Russia. Pseudo-Socialists cajoled and coaxed Russia's true liberals to make a separate peace; troops at the front fraternized under orders; the German Socialist party deceived into trying to locky the Russian party members into a German-inspired gathering at Stockholm, under guise of "an international meeting." Thousands of Germany's spies wormed their way into Russia and emboldened by the freedom of thought and of speech permitted in Russia even went so far as to make speeches in the public streets urging peace. Germany worked on exiles returning to Russia to aid her intrigue. She had agitators stationed in Petrograd. She even sought assassination of officials who stood in her way. Millions of money must have poured into this work.

Russia Survives

And through it all, Russia survived. On July 1, General Brusiloff started a major offensive, with Minister of War Kerensky personally leading the revived troops of the new nation. They swept forward in Galicia tearing down the Austro-German lines. Germany was then thoroughly alarmed. She sent reinforcements to this front and she redoubled her efforts to create disunion in Russia itself.

Numerous reports seem to indicate conclusively that it was German money that produced the revolt in Petrograd beginning July 1. Admirers of the notorious Nikolai Lomine, subsequently proved a German agent, with malcontents of sinister purpose, joined in an effort to tear down the slowly building democracy. Once again Petrograd streets were dyed with the blood of those who fell in street fights. But the government survived and began house cleaning of the disturbing elements.

Kerensky

Out of all Russia's emias there has apparently risen a Savior of the Democracy. He is A. F. Kerensky, barely in his thirties, with a frail physique and body racked with illness. He has been named the "Lloyd George of Russia." In methods and in his dynamic energy he closely resembles England's Man of the Hour. He is a Socialist; more than that, of peasant birth. Every element in Russia knows his honesty of purpose and trusts him.

It was Kerensky who saved the original Duma cabinet; it was Kerensky who reorganized the war ministry; it was Kerensky who stopped fraternizing on the fronts and who by his personal leadership in the trenches inspired the troops to fight; it was Kerensky who in the moment of dark rebellion in July struck hard and fast and quelled the revolt. Now he is Premier of Russia.

Today Russia, being aided by American transportation experts to unhook the myriad twists of her railways; Japan is giving her munitions and guns; England is lending her "tanks"; Belgium is contributing armored automobiles. Brusiloff has started where he left off in 1916 in the drive against Lemberg. The government is smoothing out. Democracy is speaking aloud; autocracy is dead.

COST ELIAS $100 TO SELL ONE BOTTLE OF BEER

Jury In Liquor Case Yesterday Finds Defendant Guilty

The city treasury was enriched $125 yesterday and today as the result of the arrest last week of Antonio Elias on a charge of selling liquor, and Isabelle Flores, charged with keeping a place where liquor was sold. Elias was convicted by a jury yesterday and City Recorder Heathman fined him $100, which he paid. The complaint against Isabelle Flores was changed this morning, it developing that she had only been operating the Spanish Kitchen on Sycamore since the 19th of June. She pleaded guilty to a modified charge and was fined $25, which she paid.

About three hours yesterday afternoon were devoted to the taking of testimony in the case against Elias and it took the jury less than fifteen minutes to return a verdict of guilty.

COMMUNITIES OF SOUTHWEST TO BE LINKED

San Diego Inaugurates Movement to Bring About Closer Relationships

To bring about a closer relationship between the communities of the Southwest, the San Diego Chamber of Commerce has launched a project for the organization of a "League of the Southwest," and has called a meeting for some time in the early part of November. The purpose of the organization will be to foster the spirit of community interest growing between the different states and sections of the Southwest and develop it into a more active and systematic system of political, social, intellectual and commercial reciprocity.

Willett S. Dorland, president of the San Diego Chamber, outlines the general plan in a letter which he forwarded to chambers of commerce and other organizations throughout the states of the southwest, the following copy being received by J. C. Metzgar, secretary of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce:

This city is making every preparation to extend enlightened hospitality to the young men of your State Militia who are coming to the great Army Cantonment within the boundaries of San Diego.

San Diego regards this Cantonment as the Federal Government's estimate of San Diego's relation to the Southwest. San Diego is keenly aware of the community interest growing between the great commonwealths of the Southwest. We believe this community spirit should be fostered and developed into a more active and intelligent system of political, social, intellectual and commercial reciprocity.

We, therefore, propose that the various elements of the Southwestern States get together in conference early in November to discuss the feasibility of forming a League of the Southwest. We plan this League to be composed of three great sections.

The first division is to be the Political Section. It is hoped its energies will be employed in discussing the interlocking political problems created by the intercourse between the Southwestern States. The problems of the Southwest are unique for many reasons, and particularly on account of its contact with the Mexican border, and its budding relations with Central and South America and the continents across the Pacific.

It is planned that Governors, State officials, Mayors and other officials of the States and communities of the Southwest shall be brought together to form this section. The Mayor of San Diego is organizing head of this section, assisted by Messrs. Lyman J. Gage, U. S. Grant, Jr., State Senator Edgar A. Luce, G. A. Davidson, Gordon Gray and Jacob Becker.

The second section of the League is to be composed of commercial and civic bodies. It is to include representatives of Chambers of Commerce, Merchants' Associations, civic organizations, industrial, rural, mining and other specific organizations devoted to commercial, industrial or civic phases of the life of the Southwest. I have the honor to be the chairman of the section.

The third section is to include educational, intellectual, cultural and social elements of the Southwest. This will embrace newspapers, scholastic institutions, women's clubs, physicians, artists, fraternal organizations and other cultural associations.

Your interest and help is absolutely necessary to organize the conference. Your personal presence is imperative. I think you will agree with me that the object is worthy of your active co-operation, even if it means some sacrifice. Will you do us the honor to participate in the deliberations of the conference next November? Will you urge the officials of your State and citizens of your State to participate in the various divisions outlined in this letter?

FORMER SANTA ANA BARBER IS TAKING MOVIES

Louis Chaudet Is Directing Grace Cunard in Pictures At the Courthouse

Once a barber employed by Justice J. B. Cox when Cox ran a barber shop on East Fourth street near French street, Louis Chaudet has returned to Santa Ana as a moving picture director.

This morning with a company of movie actors he was at the courthouse taking a number of scenes.

The scenes are part of a film play, "The Bud of Gladness," being made by the Blue Bird department of the Universal company. Miss Grace Cunard is the leading lady and star, and was in most of the scenes taken on the morning. She was taken on the courthouse steps, taken going into jail and taken out of jail. In two or three scenes Sheriff Jackson was drafted, while Sam Stein stood idly by with a "please, can't you see me" look on his face.

Shaudet was employed by Cox about eight years ago. There was a story going the rounds this morning to the effect that he is making a salary of $600 a month now.

LION LOOSE ON ILLINOIS FARM

DECATUR, Ill., July 31.—Central Illinois is terror-stricken over the appearance of an African lion on the estate of Robert Allerton, the Platt county millionaire. The lion is supposed to have escaped from a circus some time ago and has been roaming through the timber in the vicinity of Tuscola, Champaign and Monticello for several weeks.

Thomas Gullett, a butler employed by Allerton, was attacked by the lion near the Allerton garage. The man and lion rolled over and over on the ground and Gullett held the animal off by the throat. The lion's claws tore the flesh on Gullett's chest and one leg into ribbons.

Gullett's screams attracted the attention of other employees and they rushed at the lion, which escaped.

Robert Allerton has offered a reward of $250 to any one who will kill the lion.

HEWES COMPANY TO SELL PART OF HOLDINGS IN COUNTY

At Least $175,000 Expected to Be Realized Through Property Disposal

Announcement that the David Hewes Realty Company will dispose of part of its Orange county holdings was made today by D. Ryman Huff, manager of the company's Orange county interests.

In all 100 acres will be sold. Eighty acres face on Prospect avenue, between Fairhaven and La Veta avenues. Twenty acres face on Chapman and Esplanade avenues.

In addition to these properties the company will dispose of the old David Hewes residence on Main street, Tustin, and several other properties there. The Hewes residence is one of the landmarks of Orange county.

Huff stated today that the company expects to realize from $175,000 to $200,000 from the sale of the properties.

When the 100 acres are sold there will be 575 acres of land in the county remaining in the hands of the Hewes company.

Desire on the part of the company to be able to concentrate more fully on development of its business property in Los Angeles and San Francisco is given by Huff as the reason for the proposed sales.

LAGUNA BEACH L. A. SCULPTRESS VISITS LAGUNA

LAGUNA BEACH, Aug. 1.—A desire for rest and relaxation before undertaking a new piece of work has brought Miss Marjorie Doubleday, the talented young sculptress of Los Angeles, to Laguna, for a couple of weeks. She and her mother, Mrs. W. H. Doubleday, have taken rooms at The Breakers.

Miss Doubleday has a statue, "Serenity," now on exhibition at the Exposition Park in Los Angeles. At present she is doing some work in colored terra cotta and also portrait work in terra cotta. While in Laguna the young lady intends, for her own pleasure, to do some sketching in water colors.

Tuesday night Mrs. Doubleday entertained with a dinner party in honor of Mrs. Hawke of Los Angeles. The dinner was followed by a box party at the moving picture theater. All the guests of The Breakers were among the invited guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Green of Riverside entertained with a very select little dinner party Tuesday night at their Laguna cottage. The only guests were Mrs. Louise White of Riverside and her daughter, Miss Martha White.

A group of artists from Los Angeles were among the hotel's weekend guests. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Claude Wagner, Mrs. Nellie Gleason, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Smith and Mrs. H. G. Chilson comprised the party. They spent much of their time sketching.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Dinsmore and their five children arrived in Laguna Beach Saturday for two weeks' visit. They are occupying the A. F. Clark cottage just below Laguna. The Dinsmores are from Riverside.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Braddock and their children returned Tuesday to their home in Pasadena. They have just completed a six weeks' visit in Laguna, during which time they occupied the cottage on the Cliffs belonging to Mr. Braddock, senior.

Mrs. Tuttle and her little daughter Leona of Los Angeles are spending a few days with Mrs. Tuttle's sister, Miss Donna Shuster, who is spending the summer in one of the H. E. Wood's cottages at Arch Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Crookshank and their family of Santa Ana have taken one of the apartments at the Honey-suckle Lodge for a week. Mr. and Mrs. Crookshank have several friends visiting them.

Other guests at the Honey-suckle Lodge are the Rev. and Mrs. Hugh T. Dobbins of Colusa, Calif. They will remain a week.

Over-Sunday guests at the Honey-suckle Lodge included Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Nichols of Lordsburg, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hardon and Miss Helen Hardon of Pomona.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Clark of Riverside have returned to their home for a month. They will be back in September for another visit in Laguna.

A jolly group of young ladies spent Monday picnicking at "Three Arches," a favorite spot about five and a half miles south of Laguna. They motored down quite early, taking their lunch, and returned late in the afternoon. The party included the Misses Ruth and Mary Grim of Anaheim, Leslie Gaynor of Los Angeles and Charlotte and Dorothy Deacon of Pasadena.

Monday Mr. and Mrs. Harry Green of Riverside returned to their cottage on the bluff below Laguna, after a three or four days' visit in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Milo A. Baker and Mr. John W. Kemp of Los Angeles were guests at the Laguna Beach Hotel over the week-end. Mr. Baker is of the Baker Iron Works and is connected with the ship yard being built at San Pedro and which at present has a 15-million-dollar contract with the government.

Miss P. Drake and Miss L. E. Wills of Santa Ana are spending a few days at the hotel.

Mr. Walter T. Pomeroy and Mr. C. D. Walker, both of Los Angeles, are other guests of this week at the hotel. Among the week-end guests at the Beach were Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Whiteside of Riverside. Mr. Whiteside was

REMINGTON UMC

Wetproof Steel Lined Shot Shells

A NOTED Pacific Coast sportsman who has hunted everything from snipe to black bear, said recently: "The waterproofing feature, now offered sportsmen in Remington UMC 'Arrow' and 'Nitro Club' Wetproof Shotshells, is the most important improvement made in the shotshell field in over a decade. The men who perfected the Wetproof system certainly know shotgun shooting and its requirements from field, duck blind and traps, as well as from the scientific angle."

Here is something that every man who lives in a wet climate or does his shooting in the stormy seasons ought to know about.

These are the first completely wetproof shotshells—a new and exclusive feature of the Remington UMC "Arrow" and "Nitro Club" Shotshells.

This is a process that took three years to perfect. It involved a deeper study of wet-proofing materials than has ever been conducted outside of the Remington UMC laboratories.

It means special paper for the shells; a special formula for the wet-proofing; new equipment invented to apply the wet-proofing compound. Virtually a new type of shell—adding to the shooting qualities of "Arrow" and "Nitro Club" the hitherto unknown quality of perfect resistance to wet.

It produces a shell that can be soaked in water for hours without swelling, and without softening the crimp—a shell that is as bone dry inside after soaking as before—a shell that works perfectly through the gun in all climates, and can be depended upon for sure fire, speed, pattern and penetration, wet days as well as dry.

A shell that you ought to know.

FULLERTON MAN RAISES THREE CROPS ON LAND

Cabbage, Beans and Walnuts Will Return Handsome Profits on Fullerton Land

Following out the suggestion of President Wilson to all farmers to utilize every available acre of ground for the production of foodstuffs, Roy D. Pratt of Fullerton will this year grow three crops on one piece of ground. The third crop is walnuts. From 80 acres of walnuts he will gather crops that will bring him between $21,000 and $25,000.

Pratt is a renter on the Bastanchury ranch, the location of his place being about two miles west of Fullerton.

The trees in the walnut grove are young, producing a few nuts last year, with indication for a light yield this year. Last November Pratt set out cabbage between the rows of trees, and the yield was about an average of seven tons to the acre. The crop is being handled through the association and full returns have not yet been received. In the early part of the season some of the cabbage was sold for as high as $110 per ton, while in the latter part of the season the price went down to $17 per ton. When the final returns are in Pratt expects his crop to show an average of better than $30 per ton, or about $16,000 for the crop. Deducting the space occupied by the trees, Pratt had about 59 acres of cabbage.

Following the harvest of the vegetable crop, Pratt planted the acreage to beans and expects to get better than $100 an acre for this crop. The beans will have been harvested before November so that if Pratt desires to again plant cabbage he can do so.

When the final returns are in Pratt expects his crop to show an average of better than $30 per ton, or about $16,000 for the crop. Deducting the space occupied by the trees, Pratt had about 59 acres of cabbage.

Following the harvest of the vegetable crop, Pratt planted the acreage to beans and expects to get better than $100 an acre for this crop. The beans will have been harvested before November so that if Pratt desires to again plant cabbage he can do so.

Pratt is a renter on the Bastanchury ranch, the location of his place being about two miles west of Fullerton.

ELIMINATE IT

Every railroad crossing is dangerous. Some of them form a greater menace to the traveling public than others, but there is none that under some circumstances and under some conditions that may arise in a moment's time is not likely to bring death.

A driver's attention may be distracted, his foot may slip off the clutch, his car may strike soft earth and the engine of the automobile may be killed, a view generally free from obstruction may be obstructed by a passing hay wagon, he may misjudge the speed of an approaching train, the wig-wag upon which he depends may not ring—any one of these or a dozen other things may happen to add to the possibility of an accident at some place where steel rails cross the highway.

Just so long as grade crossings exist, just that long will steam trains crash into automobiles. The elimination of the grade crossing is the only remedy for the menace.

At Northam station, where the life of Attorney Keech was taken, conditions are such that the grade crossing can be done away with at comparatively little expense when compared to the difficulties that surround the elimination of many of our grade crossings. From a cursory examination, it is easily concluded that the railroad tracks need not be raised at all in order to make a subway at a point a few hundred feet west of the present crossing. But little excavation would be required. The project is one that ought to be investigated and acted upon by the county authorities at once. That is one definite thing that should result from the accident that occurred at this crossing last Monday.

CLEAN AND DRY

When Secretary Baker refused the request of Representative Isaac R. Sherwood of Toledo, O., to send Ohio guardsmen to Camp Perry because moral conditions at Toledo were not what they should be, he strengthened the country in the expectation that the government is going to do the square thing by the boys who are going to do the fighting for the rest of us.

Surely we have a right to demand that those boys shall go out protected from the menace of spoiled beef, of booze and the pestilence of camp followers.

In other words, an army camp ought to be clean and dry.

The food must be clean, the camp must be clean and the festering vice spots which threaten it must be cleaned out and disinfected.

And it's got to be dry, too, if it is to give our boys a fair chance for health and efficiency. Germs thrive in dampness, and so the army engineers know better than to build a camp in a swamp. And if our boys are to do their best the saloons must be drained dry as well as the land on which the tents are pitched.

THE FIFTEENTH ALLY

Siam, whose native name is "Muang Thai" and means "the kingdom of the free," has shown its love of freedom by declaring war against the enemy of democracy.

Small as Siam seems to be when studied on the map, its entry into the war is of no small consequence. In the first place the government seized nearly 19,000 tons of German shipping lying in Siamese ports. It has driven German intriguers out of the Malay peninsula and into their last refuge in the East, the Dutch colonies, where they have never been particularly welcome.

Siam has a respectable little navy of its own with which it expects to patrol its own 2000 miles of coast line. By joining the allies, Siam has completed for them a favorable coast line from the Mediterranean to China. Also, Siam is the rice granary of China. As such, its action is bound to influence China's attitude toward Germany.

Altogether the little kingdom is making itself a valuable addition to the Allies. It went to them without advice or urging, giving its full support to them in their fight for world freedom. Welcome, Muang Thai!

With Malice Toward None

By Henry James

Objecting to Friday

Curiously enough, there was a protest against making the army draft on a Friday, the theory being that this would cause the whole military establishment to get off wrong. In connection with the subject, the state ment was made that President Wilson regarded Friday as his lucky day; which of course would be an equal superstition.

Sometimes the people of modern times seem to have grown up, and again, they appear to be as young and foolish as ever.

Friday is all right. It has been given a bad name that it never deserved, and judges have accentuated this by hanging undesirables as a tribute to the dark and sinister character of the day.

Of course, it is bad luck to spill the salt, or to catch a glimpse of the new moon over the wrong shoulder (just which shoulder is the wrong one escapes me), but Friday never has merited the slams that have been its portion.

Freedom's Coming Collapse.

"If we permit these aggressions upon the constitutional rights of citizens * * * it may easily happen that our children will not be free people at all."—Editorial excerpt.

The "aggressions" mentioned consist largely of tentative measures to curb the disloyal portion of the press.

Never mind worrying about the freedom of "our" children. Whose children will be holding them in serfdom?

Not Grateful

President Wilson pardoned a bunch of suffragettes, probably on the ground that they were half-baked intellectually.

At once the beneficiaries planned a fresh campaign of aggression and futility; showing the executive estimate to have been right.

Mice and Cats

Australia complains of a plague of mice. Eventually there is a shortage of cats over there.

In this country there is a magazine devoting much of its energy to a plan of cat extermination, and thus to the introduction of Australian conditions.

Hysteria

"I must go quick, for I am in their power. * * * They are human devils making terrible threats."

Such was the information in a note left by a 16-year-old girl who disappeared from home.

Easy to guess that the kid had indulged too much in the movie serial.

No Alien Slackers

That it would not be a fair deal for this country to harbor alien slackers, subjects of the allied nations, while sending its own sons to battle, goes without saying.

And it isn't going to do it, either.

Emma Wouldn't "Whoa"

Emma Goldman gets out of jail on appeal, and the case will come up before the full term of the supreme court; or some other term.

The country was so well satisfied to have Emma locked up that it had hoped that she was pleased, too, and then everybody would have been happy.

Utilizing the Meteor

What had been deemed an attempt to bomb the Benicia arsenal turns out to have been the commotion caused by a meteor.

Of course, this is regarded as clearing the skirts of the enemy, and yet may be there is no merely mundane limit to the corrupting agencies of the Kaiser.

Friendship

"Friend of Humphries Confesses to His Murder."—Headline.

Some people have a queer idea of what constitutes real friendship.

Double-Crossing the Public

One man has been detected soliciting funds for the Red Cross, although without authority to do so, and having no connection with that great organization.

The record shows that the judge sent him to jail for 120 days, but not what became of the money he had filched.

Of Course

The Radical Socialist leader at Petrograd is accused of being a German spy.

If he isn't guilty as charged, there would be difficulty in accounting for the way he acts.

Going Some

A young fellow was arrested the other day for driving his motorcycle through a crowd at sixty-two miles an hour.

It is believed that had he been out on the open highway he might have indulged in a spurt of speed.

SEATTLE MAY COME INTO COAST LEAGUE

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—If the war doesn't close the gates of Coast League cities, Seattle may be in the league in 1918, in the opinion of Walter McCredie, manager of the Portland club. He is confident he can make a deal for purchase of the Seattle Northwestern League franchise and transfer it to the P. C. L.

"Seattle is a class AA city," said McCredie today, "and it never should have been dropped from the Coast League."

He believes Seattle would duplicate the record of Salt Lake during its first year in the league—and Salt Lake saved the league that year.

SEATTLE, Aug. 1.—While not admitting he is ready to dispose of his holdings in the Seattle Northwestern League club, it is generally known here that President D. E. Dugdale would not be likely to reject any good offer for his baseball park and franchises.

"I am ready to give the fans of Seattle Coast League ball if they want it and if I can secure entry into the Coast League," declared Dugdale today.

One local paper is agitating the transfer of the Vernon club to Seattle for the rest of the season. Seattle is now enjoying perfect baseball weather and it is believed this is a good time to test the city's drawing powers.

BIG I. W. W. ROUNDUP IS PLANNED ON COAST

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—A great roundup of I. W. W. agitators in California, Oregon and Washington will be started at once by the government. Assistant United States District Attorney Caspar Ornabaum announced today that all German agents who are co-operating with the I. W. W. will be arrested. Warrants for many have already been asked. The I. W. W. will be charged with treason.

An investigation of United States secret service agents has disclosed that I. W. W.'s have set fire to hundreds of fields in these three states by concealing phosphorus in haystacks. Ornabaum declares literature and other evidence seized by government agents place directly on the I. W. W. responsibility for the recent fires near Klamath Falls, Ore., and for strikes in the Northwest. The object of the strikes, he said, was to cripple the lumber and ship-building industries.

Recent agitation for a strike of ship-building and lumber men at Eureka, Cal., is also blamed to I. W. W. s.

"The entire I. W. W. movement is the work of enemy agents," said Ornabaum.

DOUBLE LIFE TANGLE BARED AT PASADENA

PASADENA, Aug. 1.—Wife No. 1, who has a twelve-year priority claim to Harry H. Cole, wealthy contractor, but who doesn't intend to claim it, will co-operate with wife No. 2 in unravelling a complex marital situation exposed today by the arrest of Cole on a charge of bigamy.

According to Pasadena officers, Cole married the second Mrs. Cole last September and established his "honeymoon cote" in a bungalow in Los Angeles. Meanwhile he maintained wife No. 1 in the old home here. The inevitable expose followed and his arrest ensued.

obstructed by a big warehouse, and a fast train can come bursting out upon the crossing with no other warning than that given by the wig-wag, which is arranged to ring about ten seconds before the engine arrives, and the whistle, which the engineer is scheduled to give for crossings.

At Irvine, the distance between the turn and the crossing is greater than it is at Northam.

E. E. Keech was known as an extremely careful automobile driver. That he could have thoughtlessly driven out upon the tracks, that he could have disregarded the wig-wag, had it given sufficient warning, to his intimate friends seems almost incredible.

Narrow Escape

To those friends it appears that any person might easily be caught in the same way that Attorney Keech was caught. Not noticing the train while upon the highway, one might easily be headed toward the tracks before he saw the wig-wag. With a train coming at high speed, less than ten seconds might elapse between the time the wig-wag started and the time the engine arrived.

A majority of drivers approaching the crossing at Northam approach so fast that they would be in a quandary, should the wig-wag begin to ring. This morning three machines crossed close together from the north. Two were going so fast that they could not have stopped short of the track had the wig-wag started. Only one driver of the three looked up and down the railroad tracks. The agent said that he sees narrow escapes almost every day.

It was the judgment of those who looked the crossing over this morning that there are elements of danger that deserve consideration, and it was also their judgment that the crossing could be eliminated at no great cost. A. J. Crookshank said he thought it likely that engineers would say that a subway should be built at the present crossing, without turning to the west where there is a draw passing the road and tracks.

Coroner's Inquest

Evidence introduced at the inquest yesterday afternoon at the Mills & Winbigger undertaking parlors tended to support the general belief that Keech was deeply absorbed in thought when he drove up on the track in front of the fast moving train. The jury returned a verdict to the effect that Keech met death by accident and no reference was made to liability of the railroad company or to the point being a dangerous crossing.

Station Agent I. D. Davidson, who was practically the only eye-witness, stated that he saw Keech approaching the track at a moderate rate of speed and that the same rate of speed was maintained from the time he saw Keech pass along the road opposite the depot until the car was struck by the engine. So far as he could see Keech made no attempt to slow down to make the crossing.

Engineer John Warboys testified that he did not see the car until just a second before his engine hit it and Fireman V. D. Kelly did not see the car at all. The latter described the position of the body on the pilot, stating that it lay across the pilot, with the head on the left side and free, while the legs were caught in the wreckage of the automobile. The car was a left-hand drive machine and the testimony of the engineer was to the effect that the machine was struck a little forward of center.

F. T. Devoe, many years ago in charge of the Santa Fe local between Los Angeles and Santa Ana, was conductor of the train which struck Keech. He and Keech were close personal friends, having formed a warm friendship when the attorney used to travel to Los Angeles on his train before the advent of the Pacific Electric.

Observations made at the crossing by the jury yesterday before it was convened for the hearing of testimony, in the afternoon, convinced the members that had the proper precaution been taken by the driver the accident would not have happened.

A train coming from the south can be seen at least a mile below the crossing from most any angle of the highway except for about 300 feet from the crossing, where the view of the track is obstructed by a warehouse and beet dump, according to the statement of members of the jury and evidence given by Station Agent Davidson.

DUTCH MAY JOIN ALLY SIDE IN WAR, BELIEF

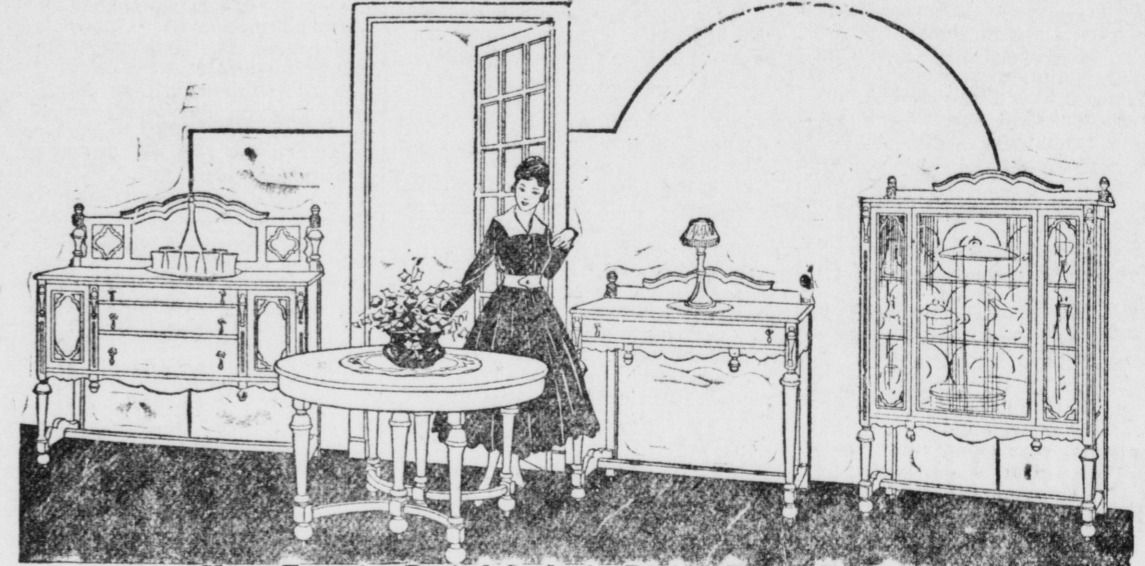

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—That the new drive against the German right flank is directed against the most vulnerable spot on the entire Hindenburg front is the opinion of many American army officers. Some observers believe that unless the drive, which, if successful, would be a tremendous blow against the German submarines, in that it would menace the diver bases on the North Sea coast, is augmented by naval co-operation, with a landing behind the present German front, complete success is not to be expected. An attack on the Teutonic right flank offers the only real opportunity, many American experts believe, of delivering a crushing blow against the Germans in one campaign. The opinion also was expressed that in the event of the allied drive being extended to the Dutch frontier there might be a possibility of Holland joining the Entente in the war. In this connection seizure of numbers of small German vessels in Dutch waters has been noted, as well as the massing of several German divisions on the Holland frontier.

FOR OUTFITTERS OF NEW HOMES

AFTER ALL—what is it you most appreciate and plan for in the Home you are about to establish or refurnish? Is it simplicity or refined elegance? Shall it be a home of the modern type, and that exclusively, or shall it combine both modern with the good, old-fashioned atmosphere of hospitality, quiet richness, and honest-to-goodness comfort?

These are questions which you alone must answer. You have your own ideas regarding the type and character of Home you want yours to be. We are interested in these ideas; interested because our store specializes in the making of Homes. Our suggestions will probably solve the problems which confront everybody who starts out to furnish and establish a Home; they are tremendously practical. They are worth while and exceedingly economical.

Our idea of devoting this store to the featuring of Home Outfits is to emphasize the far-reaching value and service of this store as a Home-Outfitting Center. All displays are suggestive. They are practical and helpful.

Your Favorite Period Style in Dining Room Furniture

Whether it is your desire to touch-off the Dining Room of your home with a style of William & Mary—or whether your ideas of simplicity lean towards the good, old-fashioned Colonial type—you'll find us splendidly prepared to satisfy your demands in every way.

The high character of our Dining Room Furniture Display and the surprisingly low range of our prices is well known. Come in—judge for yourself.

By H. C. Hamilton

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Pete Kilduff has proved his class.

Out of the Western League to the big show for the first time in his career the little fellow has understudied Charley Herzog until he has gained a reputation that some day will carry him into position as a regular.

Pete did his first work as a regular for the Giants when Herzog tried to kick a piece of chewing gum for a goal and landed on the crown of his back in a Philadelphia railway station. He was out for several days. Kilduff went in, fielded and hit at high speed and immediately became a popular Giant.

Recently the Herzog back again developed a kink and Kilduff went back with such gusto and success that he's more cold than ever.

Understudying Charley Herzog with any degree of success is quite a little task, but Kilduff has done it.

Two heavy hitting baseball clubs are acquiring the blinks. Any fan can remember when the Phillies were feared for their heavy clubs, and the same fan will tell you it hasn't been many moons since the Dodgers wielded terrible maces.

Today Grayhav, Whitted and Luderus make up the feared trio in Philadelphia, and even they are earning disdain.

Casey Stengel and Zack Wheat are the feared ones in Brooklyn, and they've both been under 300 this year. Jake Daubert has dropped, George Cutshaw is losing his punch, and so is Chief Meyers. Hi Myers and Jimmy Johnston are youths.

It didn't take a battling punch to put the Red Sox at the top, even though they did have the powerful Tris Speaker. Pitchers, fine fielding and fast thinking gave them their edge. They've still got most of it. A crack in the fielding is the most noticeable part of their fissure—which is scarcely noticeable as such.

WIENER BAKE, DANCE

Santa Ana Social Club Makes Merry at County Park Last Evening

The Santa Ana Social Club, composed largely of members of the local lodge of Odd Fellows, enjoyed a wiener bake and dance at the Orange County Park last evening. Wieners, coffee and accessories were served at 7 o'clock and later in the evening dancing was indulged in with sixty-four members in attendance.

The club meets every Tuesday night at Odd Fellows' hall for dancing or other social diversion, and the meeting at the park last evening was by way of a change in the usual weekly program.

The club is planning a meeting at some beach in the near future with a fish dinner early in the evening.

The members of the club are a merry bunch and some of the "old codgers" have learned to prance through the latest dances with the greatest grace since the club was organized. Men and women who have passed middle life without educating their feet in the art of dancing are now enthusiastic disciples of Terpsichore and are impatient for the recurring weekly social gathering.

Last night's event was a most pleasing one and the happy members whiled away the hours amid the pleasant surroundings of a mountain dance hall. Mrs. Leora Harris and Andrew Lyke provided the music.

A maple floor was put down in Odd Fellows' hall recently, making a fine dance floor.

Little Miss Margaret Bonebrake Hostess to Friends Today For Birthday

Little Miss Margaret Bonebrake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Bonebrake, was hostess this morning from 9 to 11 o'clock to her little friends in the neighborhood of her home.

The little folks enjoyed the time playing games on the lawn and happily celebrated Miss Margaret's fifth birthday. A dainty picnic spread, such as children delight in, was served. The guests were Ruth and Alfred Lalonde, Eugenia Gilbert, Elizabeth Roehm, Justina Palmer, Billy Sylvester, Maurice Burns, Norman McClay, Charles Adams, Harold Jordan, Charles and Herbert DeWitt.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Bonebrake was hostess to the Priscilla Club, the time being spent in hemming tea towels for the Red Cross.

The hostess served delectable refreshments upon prettily appointed trays, the following being present: Misses Ray Dresser, Charles Maxwell, J. L. McBride, H. J. Bradford, McVilham, G. G. Richards, I. N. Barnett, Loden, W. H. Howell and Verne Bishop of El Centro.

JOLLY CLUB MEETING

'202' Club Members Entertained at Home of Miss Muriel Cravath Yesterday

Another very pleasant meeting of the "202" Club was held yesterday evening at the home of Miss Muriel Cravath, who was assisted in her duties as hostess by her sisters, Misses Arlie and Verrian Cravath.

The home was tastefully decorated with waxen Shasta daisies, artistically arranged in large vases and a graceful basket of the flowers adorned the table, where delicious ice cream and cake were served late in the evening, punch being served the merrymakers during the evening.

The girls enjoyed dancing, which proved a delightful pastime.

Those participating besides the hostesses were Misses Myrtle Law, Margaret Lyon, Blanche Hill, Christine Watson, Aleta Merigold, Mary Smith, Hazel Pentecost, Vivian Newman, Gwendolyn Hoyle and Effie Wylie.

SECRET WEDDING

Miss Orpha Thayer of Anaheim, Robert Peck, Son of Pastor, Tell Secret

Miss Orpha Thayer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Thayer of East Center street, Anaheim, and Robert Peck, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Harcourt W. Peck, of 612 Spurgeon street, Santa Ana, have managed to keep the news of their marriage a profound secret from all their friends since the 11th of last June.

Both are very well known and popular in the younger set, and the secrecy was made possible by the fact that the young man's father is pastor of the First Methodist Church of Santa Ana.

Both families made a quiet trip to San Diego, where the license was secured and the ceremony was performed, the groom's father officiating. This was a real war-wedding, since "Bob" Peck, who has long driven for the stage company, had enlisted in the Quartermaster's Department and some time ago received his appointment as sergeant in the motor truck division, and his assignment to the command of nine trucks in one of the newly formed companies. He is expecting orders to join his company almost any day.

Patriotic and Loyalty Week
The Fraternal Brotherhood is making a national affair of the week beginning August 6, dedicated to the boys and girls who are going to war. Santa Ana's day will be August 9 and many patriotic features have been planned for the evening. Mrs. Emma R. Neidig, former supreme president, will be present to make a patriotic address. All the lodges in the county will participate.

Tomorrow evening will occur the first of a series of social entertainments to be held by the local lodge. It will be an informal dance for the members. There will also be a very agreeable surprise for all who attend.

Country Club Dance
Twenty-five couples enjoyed the beautiful evening at the Country Club last evening, when a dance was given. The moonlight was perfect, the tide was high and the cooling breezes delightful.

DOUBLE BIRTHDAY

E. M. Matthews, Miss Georgia Hill Celebrate Anniversaries With Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Matthews of 624 East Third street were the genial hosts yesterday evening at a charming family dinner in honor of the birthdays of Mr. Matthews and of their daughter, Miss Georgia Hill.

The table was made attractive with decorations of pink and white roses and the blossoms decorated the dainty place cards. The honored people each had a pretty birthday cake topped with the required number of tapers, which were blown out accompanied by good wishes.

The evening was spent with conversation, music and singing.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. William Pennock, Mrs. G. Kendall, Mr. and Mrs. Matthews, Vernie and Georgia Pennock, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Morgan and Miss Georgia Hill.

Mrs. W. A. Patterson and son spent the day in Los Angeles.

Misses Eleanor Sturgeon, Waive Kingley, Pearl and Delcia Powers went to Los Angeles today. T. P. Kingley drove the party in his automobile and they planned to visit Universal City and later attend a matinee.

H. L. Schlink was agreeably surprised yesterday, when his cousin, Ed Schlink, and family of Dawson, Minn., drove to Santa Ana. They are delighted with Southern California and expect to make their home here.

Mrs. Helen B. Chamberlin, mother of Prof. C. L. Chamberlin, left this morning for the Santa Fe for Boston. She will visit friends and relatives at St. Louis, Chicago, Lebanon, Ill., and Pittsfield, Mass., spending the most of her time at Lebanon Springs, N. Y. She will return home in about three months.

Mrs. A. A. Jones and her daughters, Misses Eunice and Vena Jones, went to Los Angeles yesterday. This morning the young ladies left for Hollister, where a married sister resides, Miss Vena planning to remain for two months. Miss Eunice Jones will attend the Young Women's Christian Association convention at Astoria for the coming ten days. She is the next year's president of the Los Angeles Normal Y. W. C. A.

Misses Emily Lykke and Irene Craemer of the Rankin Dry Goods Company are spending a week's vacation at Balboa.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Foster have returned from a delightful two weeks' vacation spent at various places of interest.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Willits are moving into George Peters' cottage on West First street, vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Preston, who moved to 511 South Birch street.

Shirley S. M. Davis came back this morning from his summer vacation trip at Forest Home, San Bernardino county, to attend the funeral tomorrow of the late E. E. Keech, with whom he had been associated in the law business for some years past. He left his family in the mountains and will return later.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Allen of Los Angeles have returned home after spending a two weeks' vacation with Mrs. Allen's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Smith. Part of the time was passed at Newport Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Nas Murray left this morning by automobile for Santa Ynez, in Santa Barbara county, where they will pass their two weeks vacation.

Mrs. T. D. Knights and sister, Miss Emma Beam, and little friend, Virginia Breeze of San Bernardino went to Balboa today where they will occupy the Fine apartments for the next two weeks. Mr. Knights will drive back and forth morning and evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Budge Lacy and Mrs. J. F. Parsons and children are occupying the Parsons cottage at Balboa for two weeks.

DOG KILLS SEVENTEEN CHICKENS FOR NISSON
A big brown Airedale dog raided the hen coop at the Nisson ranch on North Main street about midnight last night and killed seventeen fine Rhode Island Red chickens. It is understood that the animal later in the night attempted to break into the chicken pen at the W. L. Grubb and Taylor places, near Nisson's.

A man employed on the Nisson ranch heard the commotion in the chicken corral at midnight and got up to investigate. He saw the dog and returned to his room to get a gun. In the meantime the dog left. Grubb heard a noise in his chicken corral about 2 o'clock this morning and presumes that the animal was the cause of the disturbance. No chickens were killed here.

A search is being made for a dog corresponding to the description of the invader of last night. If the owner values the animal, it would be the part of wisdom for him to see that the animal is chained up at night.

WALKER AND DONNELLY BUY ANAHEIM THEATER

Chas. E. Walker, former owner of the Princess Theater of this city, and C. M. Donnelly of Orange have purchased the "New Fairland Theater" at Anaheim and took possession today.

After disposing of his moving picture business here, Walker became identified with a Long Beach company manufacturing potash from kelp. The plant was recently destroyed by fire.

Donnelly is a close friend of Walker but has never been interested in moving picture houses before.

C. L. Head, from whom the Anaheim house was purchased, intends to devote a little time to taking a needed rest, after which he and his wife and daughter will go to their date ranch in the Coachella Valley, near Indio.

BAY CITY BURGLAR IS METHOD SPECIALIST

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—San Francisco has a burglar who believes in personal efficiency through specializing his methods. He always follows the same plan, and with success.

His method is simple and carried out with painstaking precision—never varying. He enters all houses by means of the drain pipe, only takes things from rooms in which some one is sleeping and never fails to take the drawers from the bureau and leave them piled neatly on the floor when he departs.

In one evening this efficiency burglar visited three homes. First he scaled the drain pipe at the home of Elbert Holmes, procuring $30 in coin and $250 in jewelry to pay him for his trouble.

The residence of Abe Isaacs was his next stop and there the burglar had a little excitement. Mrs. Isaacs woke up while the bureau was being rifled and asked the intruder what he was doing. He answered by flashing the dark lantern he carried in Mrs. Isaacs' face. Mrs. Isaacs screamed and the burglar descended the drain pipe with $38 in money and a $100 scarf pin.

The home of C. A. Farnsworth, newspaperman, was the third place on the evening's calling list. There the burglar picked a room where two small boys were dreaming of school books and jackknives and things, and all he got was their pocket money.

U. S. ENGINEERS FACE HUGE TASK IN FRANCE
WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—Some idea of the colossal task ahead of the American army engineers in France may be gained from the announcement made by the officers of the chief army engineers that "the value of the railroad materials and rolling stock alone now being purchased is about five times that of all purchases made annually in this country for the Panama canal during the last four or five years." The statement says that the engineers' corps will carry its own rolling stock to the theater of war, in this itself being a gigantic operation. In addition to the miles of railroad with contingent construction, lumber for a score of purposes must be cut from the French forests by a regiment of trained foresters; great underground electric power houses must be established to supply current to the trenches and dugouts; scores of wells must be drilled; miles of water pipe laid through American camp cities somewhere in France.

CALL TO COLORS AID TO CUPID IN STATE

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 1.—Reports to the state registrar show that 1917 was a banner year for June weddings. The increase of 498 or 14.5 per cent, marks the greatest annual gain in twelve years beginning with 1906. The June marriage total for 1917 was 3,922 while that for 1906 was 2,342.

The marriages for the first six months of 1917 totalled 17,080 as compared with only 14,179 for 1916 and 14,628 for 1915. Hence 1917 seems likely to show a marked gain in marriages as contrasted with decreases in both 1916 and 1915.

"War brides" is the explanation ventured by Registrar George Leslie for the big increase.

"The last three months of the six months period—April, May and June—show a marked increase," he says, "while January, February and March were about normal. There is little doubt but that the call to the colors proved a big aid to cupid, winding up with the record-breaking number in June."

TIGHTER LID ON NEWS U. S. ASKS OF ALLIES
WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—The United States has asked England to be more strict with her censorship, insofar, at least, as it concerns American military movements. The request is the result of several stories which slipped through the British censor, causing concern here.

France also was asked to make her censorship more rigid.

Two cases of the British passing such stories were the arrival of American destroyers abroad and last Saturday's announcement of arrival of a new American contingent at a "European port."

In the first instance, the authorities here planned to make their own announcement when all the destroyer flotillas had arrived. In the second case the American embassy in London requested that the troop contingent arrival be not printed, but despite this the story went on the cables and was passed.

The government's request was in the form of a message from the State Department.

PRESIDIO MEN LAUDED BY MAJ. GEN. LIGGETT
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—"I think that they are splendid. Their marching and military bearing speaks for itself."

That's what Major General Hunter Liggett, commander of the Western Army Department, said today in commenting on his review of the student officers from the Presidio training camp.

The 2300 men, commanded by majors, captains and lieutenants from their own ranks, conducted the review themselves.

AWAITING CALL TO MONTEREY
WAR CAMP

WINTERSBURG, July 31.—Albert Isenor has joined the signal corps and is awaiting his call to go into training at Monterey. Carl Spears of Los Angeles, a former schoolmate and chum, is visiting at the Isenor home. He also has joined the signal corps and will remain here until the call comes, which is expected August 1st. The boys will be kept at Monterey three months.

W. G. Alford and son Russell returned late Sunday evening from a most enjoyable motor trip. They were away two weeks and a half, took in San Francisco, Santa Cruz, the State University at Berkeley, the State University Farm at Davis, visited relatives at several places, in fact, went nearly everywhere and saw everything worth seeing. Monday morning found them back to the practical life on the ranch, such as mending fences and getting in horses that waited patiently for them to get home from their joy ride before breaking out of the pasture.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hartley of Eldridge, Cal., who have been visiting at the home of the latter's uncle, John Cady, left on Saturday morning for Santa Ana to visit relatives there. Friday they, with Mrs. Cady and her children, motored to Laguna for the day, having a most delightful time, and in the evening attended the service at the camp meeting at Huntington Beach. Mr. and Mrs. Hartley are both teachers in the public schools at Eldridge and are spending their vacation in an ideal way, motoring from place to place and visiting friends. They plan to reach home by the first of September.

The Springdale school board has elected Miss Henrietta King as teacher for the lower grades this coming year. Miss Florence Grant was elected to the position some weeks ago, but accepted the primary work at Seal Beach instead. Miss King has had one year's experience and comes highly recommended. The family is well known to many of this neighborhood, her father being manager of Orange County Park.

Send 10 cents with name of this paper, to Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., for a large sample package of "An-uric." It will convince any one suffering from kidney, bladder, backache, that it is many times more active than lithin, and dissolves uric acid in the system as hot water melts sugar; besides being absolutely harmless, it preserves the kidneys in a healthy state by thoroughly cleansing them. It clears the heart valves and checks the degeneration of blood-vessels and regulates blood pressure. "An-uric" is an insurance agent against sudden death. Send to Doctor Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a free booklet on Diseases of Kidneys.

402 N. Sycamore St.

A letter from Miss Ethel Dwyer to her relatives here states that she and Mrs. Dwyer were to go this week to visit their old neighbors and friends in the Bitter Root Valley, about sixty miles from Arlie, Mont., where they have been a few weeks. Montana is very warm at this season, and this year, very dry. Fear is expressed for the hay crop, as help of any sort is scarce and good workmen exceedingly hard to find. The Dwyers have not decided when they will start home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Murdy, Elia Murdy, Mrs. Blanche Paul and children drove to Long Beach Sunday to call on Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Hawkins, old neighbors in South Dakota during the pioneer days. T. F. Hawkins is now very ill and not expected to live much longer, so the visit was of a sad nature.

C. W. Culver and family and P. A. Isenor and family have returned from a camping trip to Elsinore. They found the weather pretty warm and are not sorry to get home to a cooler climate. They took a trip to Hemet while away and also visited the Murietta Hot Springs.

Mrs. James Upton of Barstow and Mrs. Charlie Walton of Westminster were guests of Mrs. Blanche Paul Friday. Mrs. Upton, who is enjoying the breezes at Long Beach while Barstow is so very warm, remained until Saturday.

Mrs. S. L. Watson of Los Angeles is the house guest of Mrs. W. G. Alford, coming out Sunday to spend several days. The two are old friends and neighbors and will enjoy a pleasant visit together and attend the camp meeting when possible.

Mrs. C. E. Cleaver and Miss Ruby Cleaver went to Nuevo Saturday to spend a week visiting A. D. Cleaver and family.

B. A. Farrar enjoyed meeting his son, Lee Farrar, and family at the camp grounds Sunday, they having driven over from Riverside for the day.

William S. Preston is starting to build a new house just north of the L. C. Preston residence on the Huntington Beach boulevard.

Mrs. George Crane is reported to be gaining steadily since the operation and will be able to leave the hospital Tuesday.

Mrs. G. M. Roberson entertained her cousin, Mrs. Ed Moore of Orange, at her tent on the camp grounds, from Wednesday until Friday, and on Sunday was hostess to a large party of relatives and friends for dinner and supper.

Edward Meredith, brother of Mrs. H. H. Hathaway, who has been visiting here a week, returned to Covina Thursday. After a short stay with his brother and sister he will leave for his Alabama home.

Earl Farrar, Otis Taylor and his mother, Mrs. Barton, and Mrs. E. Ray Moore attended the evening service at the camp grounds Friday.

Eugene Frenger, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Ensign, Eugene and Dorothy Ensign motored to Huntington Beach Saturday afternoon.

Everyone who possibly can attend the camp meeting Tuesday is urged to hear the program given by the boys from the Spanish Industrial School at Gardena. It will be very interesting.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Sharratt and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hathaway drove to Huntington Beach Sunday, attending both the morning and afternoon services at the camp grounds.

The many friends of Mrs. Clinton Buish will be glad to know she is recovering nicely and able to sit up a little while each day.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gardner and children were Sunday guests of J. D. Shutt's family.

Chris Nelson and family went to San Fernando Wednesday, returning on Sunday.

Mrs. W. H. Phillips and daughter, Helen, spent three days with friends at El Toro, returning on Friday.

Charlie Graham and Mrs. Graham were down from Puente Sunday to attend the camp meeting.

Miss Bonnie Winters, of Los Angeles came home Saturday to spend Sunday with her parents.

OAKLAND POLICE DASH
CAUSED BY SPOONERS

OAKLAND, Aug. 1.—M. J. Brennan of Oakland, the police say, either is a joker or else he don't know much about making love.

The phone rang in the police station at 1 o'clock in the morning. "There are strange noises out in this neighborhood—something's wrong," Brennan reported when the police answered the phone.

Two officers in an automobile hurried to the scene.

Creeping stealthily to where they could listen, sure enough there were the noises. But they weren't "strange" to the policemen. Oh, no. They recognized them.

They listened and heard a masculine voice intoning promises of everlasting affection with the well-known cooing of the feminine response and then a kiss—and such a kiss it was—"of limpid sweetness, long drawn out."

The cops crept back to their auto and went back to headquarters.

STANISLAUS AFTER 3
YEARS SHIPS PEACHES

MODESTO, Cal., Aug. 1.—Stanislaus county peach growers this week are shipping to eastern markets the first shipment of Elberta peaches to have been forwarded for three years. The initial shipment was of between twenty and thirty carloads and was forwarded from the Modesto and Empire warehouse.

Three years ago it was found impractical to ship Elberta peaches from here on two accounts—lack of proper warehouse facilities and a market none too active. This year, however, a new warehouse was built and would have made peach shipping profitable even on a normal market, but war conditions have remedied market deficiencies so all barriers are gone with the coming of the 1917 crop.

TALBERT

TALBERT PEOPLE
IN 300-MILE
DESERT TRIP

TALBERT, July 31.—S. E. Talbert, W. O. Ater and son LeRoy and T. B. Talbert and son Gordon of Huntington Beach, made a 300-mile trip out toward the desert last Saturday. They went as far as Coachella and beside seeing a lot of country saw several unusual sights also. In the Perris valley around Beaumont and Lakeside water from the big rain that that section experienced was still standing on the boulevards and in the fields. The majority of the baled hay had been separated and the bales stood on end to dry. The loss from damage will be great.

At the station just beyond Beaumont where the train wreck occurred last week, the party viewed the remains of the disaster, which had not been cleared away. The sixteen cars of oil, the other cars of the train together with stacks of canned goods of a large shipment that was aboard were still lying in a jumble on the right of way by the track. Decidedly warm weather was witnessed throughout the trip.

Mrs. Charles Smith is confined at her home with a badly sprained foot and ankle, the injury having been sustained last Sunday evening when she received a hard fall. Mr. and Mrs. Smith have been with Terrill's hay baling crew. Mrs. Smith cooking for the men and Smith employed on the baler, and they just returned home Sunday morning, the job being completed.

The Smiths have a puppy and also a cat, so as a natural occurrence the pup looks after the cat. It proved an inopportune moment for the cat ran to Mrs. Smith for protection and landed under her feet so unexpectedly that it threw her heavily. A doctor was summoned at once and he found the ankle badly sprained and the ligaments connecting with the heel badly torn. The injury, he states, is even more severe than a break would have been, and it was necessary to have a specially constructed brace made for the member. Mrs. Smith is suffering a great deal of pain.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gistler and family attended the all-day Catholic picnic held at Long Beach last Saturday.

S. E. Talbert has the horse shoer who was in his employ three years ago, again employed in his blacksmith shop.

One hundred and twenty-three tons of beets were shipped from the East Talbert dump between Monday morning when it opened and closing time Saturday evening. The loads are coming in more rapidly this week as the labor question is not in quite such a strained condition as last week.

The Nimmo dump began operations on Monday and the Tennessee avenue dump opened Tuesday, making five running on the S. A. H. B. P. E. line.

Malcolm Higgins of Long Beach spent Sunday and Monday visiting his brother Alfred Higgins, at the Arnold Walker home.

Nick Vandolton, of Los Angeles came Saturday to take charge of Mrs. Nimmo's ranch during her intended absence of several weeks. Vandolton, who formerly was in Mrs. Nimmo's employ for several years, has been employed for some time in the city and as he wished to spend his vacation in the country the present arrangements proved acceptable to both he and Mrs. Nimmo. At present he is taking out the Italian rye lawn. Mrs. Nimmo is dissatisfied with this grass and will have the white clover to replace it.

Rev. and Mrs. J. Alvah Andrews were dinner guests Sunday at the Blakey home at Westminster. Rev. and Mrs. Andrews were guests of honor at a dinner given last Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Andrews' sister at Long Beach. This was a family affair honoring the first wedding anniversary of Rev. and Mrs. Andrews and also the birthday anniversary of a sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harper and Mrs. Harper's mother, Mrs. W. T. Patterson of Bolso were Sunday evening visitors at the J. O. Harper home.

Miss Della Gistler spent Monday and Wednesday of last week in Los Angeles.

Mrs. J. G. Parsons spent Monday in Los Angeles shopping.

Miss Ida Gistler and Miss Helen Gorman went to Catalina last Friday, returning home Tuesday after a most delightful outing.

Mrs. Harry Harper and Mrs. Harvey Walker spent Monday in Santa Ana.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wardlow and family were Sunday guests of Mr. Wardlow's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Wardlow, at their Santa Ana home.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Callens and family of Oxnard came Wednesday of last week for a visit at the home of his brother, R. S. Callens. The party returned home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Martel and Miss Mary Meuller were Sunday visitors at Balboa.

Emil Leervain and family move from the ranch to their new residence a mile west of town on Wednesday of this week. They have contemplated moving since the completion of the house some months ago but were delayed on account of the rush with farm work.

Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Wells and family have moved temporarily from the ranch to their Eighth street property in Huntington Beach and expect to remain until after the old soldiers' reunion. Mr. Wells makes the trip back and forth between the beach and ranch daily in his machine, attending to his ranch duties.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bullock visited Sunday evening with the former's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Cannon, at their home in Bolso. Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Rix entertained as week end guests their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Rix, of Baldwin Park.

MORE MUSICIANS ARE SOUGHT FOR MARINES

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—Uncle Sam wants many things. He wants soldiers and sailors and marines and money and munitions and supplies to lick the kaiser with. And now the United States marine corps announces he also wants musicians—probably to furnish the tune which the kaiser eventually must dance to.

At Mare Island marine corps barracks there is a band of real musicians—sixty-five in all, twenty-five of whom are the University of Minnesota band. The local marine corps recruiting station is after some more.

Like everything in the marine corps and most things in the army and navy, the Marine Corps band is full of tradition. But, what's worse, its own, particular tradition, has to do with a rank case of kidnapping.

Back in 1802—the marines swear this is true—Captain Daniel McNeill of the 23-gun corvette Boston, with his ship was in the port of Naples, Italy. Thirteen Italian musicians came aboard to try the civilizing effects of music on the men from the "New World."

It made a hit. Captain McNeill, they say, was a good marine—a man of action. So taken was he with the music that he promptly lifted anchor and came back to America, Italian musicians and all.

Italy protested. The State Department apologized and disciplined the music-loving marine. But the Italians remained and right there the Marine Band began.

Nowadays the marines don't kidnap musicians but the recruiting officers say, on the other hand they treat them well and if they are good musicians some day they may get into the big United States Marine band—the band which plays for the President.

There Is Money
In Beach Acreage

If you buy at the right price and at the right beach.

There are only 8½ miles of high beach frontage now available close to Los Angeles and 5 miles is occupied by the cities of Santa Monica, Redondo and Long Beach. Huntington Beach has the other 3½ miles.

If you price close-in acreage at the older and larger beach cities you will find it has reached a figure that is almost prohibitive and that there is no longer a chance for quick increase and good profits, while at Huntington Beach you can buy good close-in acreage for

$350 to $500 an Acre
Easy Terms

Full half acre tracts inside city limits on or near paved boulevards with every city convenience

Only $500

Terms $50 cash, balance $25 every 3 months.

Now is the time to buy while prices are low.

TO LIST OF 362 IN FIRST CALL FIFTY-EIGHT ARE ADDED

Exemption Board to Examine 420 Men In Initial Effort to Get Quota of 181

Fifty-eight additional names have been added by Exemption Board No. 1 of this county to the list of 362 first suggested as the number to be called for the examination for the first army. Instead of citing 362 men to appear for physical examinations next week, the board will call altogether 420 men for the examinations.

Yesterday 120 notices were sent out to men to appear for physical examinations on Monday. This afternoon 150 additional notices will be sent, these 150 men to appear on Tuesday, and tomorrow 150 more notices will be sent to men to appear on Wednesday.

The fact that there is such a large number of aliens in the list of 362, which is just double the district quota of 181, caused the exemption board to decide to enlarge the number to be called for examination at this time. Following physical examinations will come the time for considering exemptions. By the time the exemption affidavits are examined and passed upon, two weeks from this time will have elapsed before the board can determine whether or not it has secured its quota of 181 out of the 420 men now called.

In addition to the 362 names published in the Register on Monday, the following fifty-eight names are added to the list of those to be notified to appear for examination next week:

'KAISER' SMASHED AT L. A. FEDERAL BUILDING

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 1.—Angered at an oil painting which depicted a palatial North German Lloyd steamship, the "Kaiser Wilhelm II," hanging on the wall of a witness room in the Federal building, a group of witnesses organized an impromptu indignation committee and tore the painting to shreds. There will be no precautions.

ICE FAMINE HITS SANTA ANA, WITH WEATHER WARM

Private Consumers Will Be Limited to About Half Usual Supply

An ice famine is on in Santa Ana. It is on all over Southern California. The fact that ice plants of Southern California have not held the product in storage, and the unprecedented demand for refrigeration of watermelons in shipping are said to be responsible for the condition obtaining today.

The Santa Ana Commercial Company has notified the retailers of the city handling its product that it cannot supply them in full after this. A happy medium has been hit upon, and the retailers will be supplied with about 50 per cent of what past records show their average daily sales to have been. The retailers are A. N. Zerman, R. R. Smith and the Home Supply Company. The retailers have regular routes. Each will be allotted ice to supply half their customers and the retailers will work the problem out so that their customers may receive ice every other day, or in that proportion. On one day's allotment the delivery wagons will go as far as they can, and the following day will commence at the point in their routes they left off the previous day and complete the route. The rotation will be followed for an indefinite period, and indications at this time are that this policy will have to be pursued throughout the summer. J. W. Tubbs, anticipating the condition which exists today, some time ago contracted for the stored ice of the Taylor ice plant, and recently has toured Southern California in an effort to add to his available supply here. Wholesalers, such as confectioners, etc., will be taken care of and the restriction applies only to private consumers.

"With the capacity of our plant but ten tons a day, and a demand for practically three times that amount we have found it absolutely necessary to make restrictions," said J. W. Tubbs, manager of the Santa Ana Commercial Company, today.

"I recently made a 350 mile trip in an effort to get in touch with plants that could help us ease the situation but failed. I found conditions everywhere about what it is here today. "Big concerns which have heretofore held tons of ice in storage have this year adopted another policy, and practically all the ice stored in anticipation of the summer demand has been disposed of. "Remodeling of our plant is partly responsible for the shortage here. We did not get our storage house completed in time to fill it with ice before the hot weather broke."

There has been no increase in the price of ice, despite the shortage and it is not likely that there will be an increase.

The Taylor ice plant does not supply retail trade, and wholesales only.

CAPTURE OF SLAYER OF OFFICER IS NEAR

PETALUMA, Cal., Aug. 1.—Sheriff Smith today declared Carl Otto, escaped convict who stabbed Policeman Gus Jewett, will soon be in custody. Throughout the night the posse hunting him guarded every outlet to the gulch in which Otto is believed to be cornered. The posse is discussing the advisability of closing in and forcing the issue.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT

TO JAIL RATHER THAN PAY FINE FOR SPEEDING

Ed. Maier, Caught at Forty Miles An Hour, to Serve It Out

Two men fined for speeding went to jail this morning. One of them was Ed Maier of Santa Ana. He said he had the money, but he would not pay his fine.

According to statements made by Motorcops Ballard and Carr, Maier was riding forty miles an hour on the Seal Beach road last night when he was arrested. This morning before Justice Cox he pleaded guilty to the charge against him. Since he would not pay he was sent to jail to serve out his sentence at the rate of $1 per day.

B. Metty of Los Angeles was going thirty-eight miles an hour, and was fined $10. Forty miles or over with justice Cox draws $20. Metty said he had been drafted in Los Angeles. He expects to be ordered to appear for examination soon. He seemed to have an idea that the authorities here would have to let him go. They did not. He went to jail.

Causes Trouble

A horse owned by Pablo Morin of Delhi has caused him to be charged with two offenses. Of course, the horse is not to blame, but Pablo possibly can't see it that way. He staked the horse on South Main street. That is an offense, for which Constable Coleman arrested Pablo. It developed that the horse had been allowed to remain where he was staked without food or water. For that, Deputy Sheriff Cravath swore to a complaint charging Morin with cruelty to animals.

Too Strenuous

Frank Cordaro swore to a complaint for the arrest of Castantino Pezeziado, an Italian who works on a dairy ranch near Fairview. Cordaro says that Castantino beat Mrs. Castantino.
